Question 3. In reviewing your template contract, we did not see a limitation on direct damages clause in the template included in the RFP. Our position is that such a clause is necessary before we sign any services contract. Will you allow the bidder to insert such a clause for discussion during contracting, or will you take the position that the bidder may not do so?

Answer See Section III, #49; #50; #51; #57

Question 4. We noted that the clause in your template regarding contractor's indemnification lacks any requirement that the contractor have breached the terms before that clause is triggered.
